About the Compilers

Roger & Nancy Verboncoeur

Roger & Nancy (Potter) Verboncoeur graduated from high school together in 1958.

Roger took a position as a student trainee at the Naval Underwater Ordnance Station, Newport, RI and Nancy went on to graduate from the Rhode Island Hospital School of Nursing in 1961. They were married in September 1961.

Roger took a position as an apprentice electronic mechanic at the Overhaul & Repair Department, Naval Air Station, Quonset Point, RI in 1961 and became a journeyman mechanic in 1965. He transferred to a computer programming position at the Supply Department in 1966, where he developed computer software in the accounting field.

Naval Air Station Quonset Point was closed by the Navy in 1974 and the office that employed Roger was moved to Naval Air Station Jacksonville, FL. During this period he was promoted to a Supervisory Computer Specialist position with responsibility for designing, developing, programming, testing, installation, and maintenance of a Budget Formulation and Execution Monitoring System. He supervised a team of eight programmers in this effort. The software was used by various commands in the Department of Defense. Roger retired after a 40 year career as a civilian employee of the U.S. Navy in January 1998.

During this time Roger & Nancy were blessed with eleven children (7 boys and 4 girls).

Their interest in genealogy began in 1989 when they purchased a computer program for organizing their family tree. Since then it has become an addiction to find as much information as possible about their ancestors. One curious thing that was discovered is that Roger & Nancy are fourth cousins.

It was also discovered that not all Vadeboncoeurs are related. There having been some 60+ soldiers that adopted the “dit Vadeboncoeur” name as a “nom-de-guerre” in the 1670 – 1770 time period. This necessitated researching all of them in order to build family relationships.

Roger is descended of Jean Chabrier dit Vadeboncoeur on his paternal side and Paul Miraben dit Vadeboncoeur on his maternal side. Nancy is descended of many of the founding fathers of the State of Rhode Island on her paternal side and French-Canadians and a British Home Child on her maternal side. Both trace their ancestry back to the notable greats of Europe such as Charlemagne and back to the Pharohs of Egypt in 1600 B.C.

The research continues and they invite all related families to assist in extending the family tree.

Roger’s Henry Number from Chabrier = #1715371
Forward

The Vadeboncoeur name is not found in France as a family name, but rather, was “adopted” by soldiers in the French Army in the 1670 to 1770 era. It was an Army requirement that each man in a Company was to have a distinct name so as to avoid confusion when a name was called. Thus was born the “dit” name. Some men were able to retain their own surname (eg. Roche dit Roche), others adopted the name of their village or area of residence (eg. Roche dit Laforest), and for those that had a hard time deciding, the Army maintained a list of acceptable names (eg. Vadeboncoeur or Francoeur, etc.). As it turns out, Vadeboncoeur became one of the most popular “nom-de-guerre” in the Army. We have identified over 60 soldiers that used the “dit Vadeboncoeur” name. Only a handful of them retained the Vadeboncoeur name after the end of the Seven Years War, the remainder reverting to their original surname.

The literal translation of “Vadeboncoeur” is “go with a good heart.” The idiomatic translation of the name from French to English is “GO WITH GREAT COURAGE.”

We have been attempting to document all the major events in the lives of the ancestors and descendants of Jean Chabrier dit Vadeboncoeur. Events for which we have a copy of the primary record in our files are noted with an asterisk (*) in front of the date for that event. If you can provide additional documentation for this large family we would be grateful.

If you have done any research on the Vadeboncoeur Families you have probably found a number of different spellings for the name. This is enough to give anyone an Identity Crisis! Below is a list of names that we have found in the course of doing research.

Throughout this document you will notice entries for “Henry No.” The number of characters in the Henry number denotes the number of generations down from the ancestor soldier to that person. Eg. A Henry number of 1 2 6 5 B 2 1 1 is an 8th generation descendant. That person’s sibling would be 1 2 6 5 B 2 1 2. The more the two Henry numbers match, the closer the relationship. You can determine your relationship to any other person in the report as follows:

Write your Henry No.       1 2 6 5 B 2 1 1
Write the other person’s   1 2 6 7 3 1 6
Find the common ancestor---^---^---
   Siblings---------------------------^---
   First Cousins----------------------^--
   Second Cousins--------------------^--
   Third Cousins---------------------^--
       Once Removed-------------------^-- (No corresponding generation)

These two people are Third Cousins Once Removed

The Henry number also describes your lineage down from the ancestor. In the above example (from right to left) you are the first child of the first child of the second child of the 11th child (siblings greater than 9 use letters) of the fifth child of the sixth child of the second child of the ancestor soldier.

There is a lot of information packed into a Henry Number!
Background

Jean Chabrier dit Vadeboncoeur was born in the small village of St Jean-de-Maruejols in the Languedoc region of France which is north west of Marseille on the Mediterranean Sea. The Chabrier name translates to “Goat Herder” from the ancient Occidental language of southern France.

Originally the Chabrier family held to the Protestant Religion, but King Louis XIV in the Edict of 1685 abolished the Protestant Religion and declared that all subjects would become Catholics. And so the “New Catholics” were baptized and married in the Catholic Church, but were buried as Protestants because that was for life eternal.

St Jean-de-Maruejols can be located in the center of the map.

The following pages contain pictures of the village to give you a flavor of the area. Our thanks to Robert Vade Bon Coeur for sharing these photos with us.

Son existence est attestée par sa désignation dans le testament de Etienne CLAMENS de Taraux en date du 21 juillet 1626 (2E 16 286) "donne à Estienne Chabrier, fils à feu Bertrand, pour tous leurs bons services à chacun 5 livres". Il n'est pas absolument certain d'après ce document que cet Estienne Chabrier soit un fils du Bertrand Chabrier et de Zabian Montagnac comme ici pris en compte. Néanmoins nous le considérons comme tel (sous réserve du contraire) car ce même testament désigne comme autre légataire du testateur, son cousin, Pierre Montagnac, de St-Jean-de-Maruéjols, ce qui indique un lien de parenté avec les Montagnac et renforce notre hypothèse. Private Jean Chabrier called Vadeboncoeur

Private Jean Chabrier called Vadeboncoeur is no more famous than any other young man enrolled in the regiments that were part of the French expeditionary force sent to New France in 1755. He is among those who contributed to the defence of the colony and decided to remain in Canada after the defeat instead of returning to France.

Jean Chabrier was born in Saint-Jean-de-Maruéjols, in Languedoc, May 16, 1734. This small village of a few hundred inhabitants is located at the foot of the Cévennes mountains (Southern of France), a few miles east of Saint-Amboix. Jean belonged to a family of weavers, carders and workers in the wool industry. His father, Jean Chabrier, a weaver, married Jeanne Dubois in 1723. The Chabriers, a protestant family, had seven children and Jean was the fifth child.

It is not known exactly when he joined the Army. We know that for many poor families such a career for one of their sons was a relief, because there was one less mouth to feed. However, it was a painful experience, because there was no
Jean Chabrier bears a nickname: Vadeboncoeur. It was very common, in those years, to give a nickname to a soldier. It served two purposes. First, it was an easy way to differentiate individuals bearing the same family name within the unit. Second, it was a way to accept this individual in his new family, the regiment, under a new name. This procedure was common for centuries in the French tradesmen guilds like the Compagnonnage. Almost the same criteria were used to determine a nickname. It could be the place, the town or the province of origin of the soldier like "Lacombe" (from a dale), "Parisien" (from Paris), or "Le Breton" (from Brittany) or "Lyonnaïs" (from Lyon); it could be a flower like "Larose", "Laviolette" ou "Lafleur"; or it could be a reference to the personality of the individual, like "Tranchemontagne" (mountain slayer), "Prêt-à-boire" (a heavy drinker), "Lafranchise" (for his frankness) or "Vadeboncoeur" (go with good heart).

Private Vadeboncoeur had turned 21 when his regiment, the Regiment de Languedoc, was called for service in New France. France and England had engaged in a war that was to last seven years. The conflict had started some two years earlier in North America in the Ohio valley and the region south of Lake Champlain. The French Minister of the Navy and the Colonies, responsible for the defence of the colony with a body of colonial troops, namely the Compagnies franches de la Marine, requested fresh troops from the Minister of War. The Marquis de Montcalm replaced, as commander of the Army, the Baron Dieskau who lost a battle South of Lake Champlain and was made prisoner by the English at the end of 1755. Montcalm, with a greater authority, brought with him fresh troops; among those was the Regiment of Languedoc.

The Regiment of Languedoc was formed in 1671. At this time, the King decided to create a true Royal Army. Usually, new regiments created for the King's service took the name of the region or province where they originated. After the Seven Years War, almost one hundred years after its creation, the regiment would be numbered 67th Infantry. The distinct elements of the uniforms that served to identify the regiment were a six-buttoned vertical pockets on a greyish white jerkin with a blue collar, three buttoned blue cuffs, blue facings, brass buttons, a blue vest and trousers, false-gold braided black felt tricorned hat a with a black cocade.

Jean Chabrier called Vadeboncoeur took part in all of the New France Campaign and was present everywhere his regiment fought. He was hospitalized during the spring of 1758 at Quebec Hôtel-Dieu. We do not know the nature of the sickness, or wound, but he was cared for by the Augustines for at least one month.

The Canadian colony did not have enough military infrastructure to hold all of its troops, except for Quebec city, where "new Barracks" had recently been inaugurated, Louisbourg and Nouvelle-Orléans. Everywhere else, soldiers were quartered with the population who was reimbursed for this duty in the form of a quartering bill. The situation became more critical during winter when military expeditions were minimal. It is most probably during the winter of 1758-1759 that Jean Chabrier called Vadeboncoeur met Angélique Sicard, daughter of Jean Sicard, Seigneur of Carufel and Captain of the Militia, and Marie-Angélique Baron called Lupien. Angélique was two years older than he. The Sicard Family, originally from Castres in Languedoc (Southern of France), were the Seigneurs of Carufel for at least two generations; the fief was located near Maskinongé on the North Shore of the Saint-Lawrence River, west of Trois-Rivières.

September 1759. The future of the French colony was hopeless. Québec had fallen and General Montcalm had been mortally wounded during the battle. The French troops tried to regain their strength while in their winter quarters. Jean and Angélique consorted with each other seriously during the winter. Jean signed a promise of marriage before a notary during the fall of 1759.

Jean Chabrier called Vadeboncoeur fought at the battle of Sainte-Foy in May 1760, but retreated with the entire French Army to Montreal during the summer. On September 8, 1760, Montreal and the entire colony capitulated to the English. On September 15, one week later, Jean Chabrier called Vadeboncoeur, already discharged from the army, married his beloved bride in the small church of Maskinongé.

Almost one month and a half later, on October 22, the first son of Jean and Angélique Chabrier called Vadeboncoeur was born. He also bore the name of his father and grandfather: Jean. This birth marks the beginning of the Chabrier called Vadeboncoeur lineage in North America. By the middle of 19th century, the family name Chabrier was replaced by Vadeboncoeur.

The descendants of Jean Chabrier called Vadeboncoeur travelled in all directions and they can be found in the province of Quebec and elsewhere in Canada, but also in the United States. For some of them, the original name was modified over the years due to spelling errors, phonetic interpretations and translations by parish priests, census officials as well as registration officers. From Vadeboncoeur, it was transformed into: Bunker, Devadboncoeur, Devadeboncoeur, Devadeboncour, Goodheart, Hart, Vaboncoeur, Vadboncoeur, Vadboncour, Vadbunker, Vade Bon Coeur, Vade Bon Couer, Vade Boncoeur, Vadeboncoeur, Vadeboncheur, Vadebonceure, Vadeboncoeur, Vadeboncour, Valboncoeur, Valfboncoeur, Valdeboncoeur, Valboncoeur, Vanboncoeur, Varboncoeur, Varboncour, Varbounker, Vasdeboncoeur, Vasedeboncoeur, Vatboncoeur, Vedeboncoeur, Vedeboncoeur, Verbontseur, Verbonceur, Verboncoeu, Verboncoeur, Verbuncouer, Vedeboncoeurt, Verbuncour, and Verbunker.

Godparents: Jean Baptiste Chabrier dit Verboncour, uncle & Francoise Blais, wife of Joseph Dessere.

76. Pierre (Louis) Chabrier dit Vadeboncoeur #32186 (Jean Chabrier dit, Jean Chabrier, Jean, Simon, Simon, Bertrand), ahnentafel #32 from Roger #32 <Louis, henry no. #17 from Chabrier, born 31 Oct 1775 in Louiseville, Maskinonge, QC, Canada, baptized * 01 Nov 1775 in Louiseville, Maskinonge, QC, Canada, died 15 Feb 1839 in Maskinongé, Maskinongé, PQ, Canada, buried * 17 Feb 1839 in Maskinongé, Maskinongé, PQ, Canada. Godparents: Pierre Labrecque & Madeleine Lafreniere.

Pierre Chabrier dit Vadeboncoeur was baptised on 01 Nov 1775 at St Joseph's in Maskinonge. He was evidently named after his Godfather. No further record of him, marriage or death, could be located in the Drouin Collection of Catholic Church records.

A baptismal record for Louis Chabrier dit Vadeboncoeur was also not to be found in the Drouin Collection. However a marriage record, burial record and baptismal records for his children were located. Louis' original date of birth was projected to be about 1798 based on his marriage date of 1819. When his burial record was located it provided his date of death as 15 Feb 1839 at age 60 years. This then revised his date of birth downward to about 1778.

This researcher has made the assumption that Pierre and Louis Chabrier dit Vadeboncoeur are one and the same person based on the following:

1. When Pierre was baptised the priest, Rev. Dominique Petrimoulx, may have failed to enter his second name, ie. Louis Pierre or Pierre Louis. Father Petrimoulx was notoriously lax with his record keeping.
2. Louis' age at the time of his death is presumed to have been inaccurate and based on a guess by a relative.
3. Pierre's lack of a marriage or death record and Louis' lack of a baptismal record dovetail these two persons into one.

He married * 09 Nov 1819 in Maskinongé, Maskinongé, PQ, Canada, and Marguerite Macras #32187 (daughter of Daniel (McGrath) Macras #34598 and Judith Dupuis #34599), ahnentafel #33 from Roger #33 <Louis, born 19 Nov.
1795 in Maskinongé, Maskinongé, PQ, Canada, baptized * 20 Nov 1795 in Maskinongé, Maskinongé, PQ, Canada, died 20 Nov 1844 in Maskinongé, Maskinongé, PQ, Canada, buried * 22 Nov 1844 in Maskinongé, Maskinongé, PQ, Canada. Marguerite; Godparents: Pierre Dupuis & Marguerite Lupien.

Le mystère d'Eugène Vadboncoeur résolu?
« Thread Started on Aug 5, 2007, 7:45am »

Voici un e-mail de Peter Morris, auteur de A Game of Inches

Hi Alexandre,

Many thanks for providing so much valuable information about Eugene Vadeboncoeur. I've passed on the information about the 1891 death in Haverhill to a couple of SABR researchers in Massachusetts for follow-up and will let you know what they find. I've also passed along the birth information to SABR Biographical Committee Chairman Bill Carle and assume he will update the date and place of birth. We did have this birth information at one time, but there was considerable confusion because the ballplayer never used the middle name Onesime, going instead by Eugene F. Vadeboncoeur. But I agree with you that the September 1859 birth is definitely the ballplayer's. I feel less sure about the spelling of the surname -- did the family not use the spelling with the first e at the time? Certainly the documents I've seen always spell the name with two Es. Maybe that is a typographical error?

People have been researching Vadeboncoeur for a long time but his death has been elusive. He was last known to be in Denver in 1890. In the 1960s Lee Allen of the Hall of Fame contacted the ballplayer's nephew, who said that Gene died of pneumonia at a YMCA while still playing baseball.

Unfortunately, he didn't know the town. Bob Richardson found an article in the Lawrence (Mass) Tribune on September 6, 1912, on the whereabouts of the 1885 Lawrence team. It stated that Vadeboncoeur had died in Providence.
"about nine years ago." This seemed very promising, but I checked Providence death records from 1880-1920 and there was nothing even close. But maybe the 1891 death will prove correct.

Here are some more notes that we've gathered:

Port Huron Tribune 3/24/83 Eugene F. Vadeboncoeur signed to complete the [local] team. Port Huron Times 4/12/83 E. J. Vadeboncoeur, 22, played for Syracuse in 1881 and 1882 and Grand Rapids in 1882. Port Huron Tribune 8/4/83 After several notes that Vady can't get along with Frank J. Beck/Hengstebeck, Vady is released and signs with Peoria. Grand Rapids Eagle 5/10/84 Vadeboncoeur of this city signs with Akron. SL Vol 1 #18 Union Club of Chicago signs Eugene F Vadeboncoeur. Grand Rapids Eagle 7/16/84 Vadeboncoeur of this city is catching for Philadelphia of the National League. S Life 8/27/84 Eugene Vadeboncoeur was released by Philadelphia and signed with York. He plays with York, Pa. in the Eastern League from 8/23/84-9/20/84 and spent that winter in York. SL 11/25/85 Haverhills sign catcher Vadeboncoeur. 12/30/85 SL E. F. Vadeboncoeur, one of Harry Wright's experiments in 1884, with the Haverhills. SL 3/10/86 E. F. Vadeboncoeur with Haverhill. OBR 8/25/86 Vadeboncoeur signs with St. Paul. SL 12 14 87 Eugene Vadeboncoeur wintering in Lawrence, Mass, but not in Lawrence CDs. Eugene Vadeboncoeur with Easton, Pa 1888, was catcher with Rutland, VT in 1887. SL 6/13/89 Vadeboncoeur is catching for Philadelphia of this city is catching for a Lawrence, Mass semi pro club (not in Lawrence CDs). Early 1890 Catcher E F Vadeboncoeur is disengaged, residing in Pascoag, RI. 12 4 89 SL Providence RI The prominent catchers of the Rhode Island State Lg E Vadeboncoeur.

There was a list of players 2 5 90 SL who would agree to play for the National Lg in the future (there was this big Players Lg problem) and though they didn't list the info they filled out a form that included age and ht and wt: John A Sterling E F Vadyboncoeur A F Donoghue Thomas Bristow. 1890 Syracuse note from Sporting News Eugene Vadeboncoeur, a Syracuse boy who has been playing in New England for a number of seasons, visited his parents last month. He is now in Denver. I have a note that Eugene was born in Louisville, Quebec, which is where the Haverhill guy was born, so they're probably cousins. Grand Rapids Herald, June 4, 1911: "A catcher named Vandeboncoeur [sic] and a pitcher and outfielder yclept Blackburn, both from Otsego, were probably the first of the army of mercenaries which has in the interval of thirty years accepted Grand Rapids money for diamond feats. They were given soft jobs in the furniture factory on days when there were no games, to keep them in training, doubtless."

Eugene's father Onesime Vadeboncoeur (bds 68 Green) first appears in the Syracuse cd in 1868. In 1870 he's listed as a carpenter living at 96 Green. The 1870 census shows Onesime, 44 Canada, carpenter; wife Angela 40 Canada; son Danna 16 Canada; son Ferdinand 14 Canada; son Eugene 10 Canada; son Edward 8 Canada; son Philip 3 Canada; daughter Delia 1 New York. So obviously the Vadeboncoeurs moved to Syracuse from Canada around 1868.

The Vadeboncoeurs remain at 96 Green for the next decade with the city directory showing: 1871/2 Onesime carpenter; 1872/3 Dannie student, Ferdinand medical student, Onesime carpenter; 1873/4 Dannie student, Ferdinand medical student, Onesime carpenter; 1874/5 Dannie teacher, Ferdinand student, Onesime carpenter; 1875 Antoine physician, Dannie teacher, Onesime carpenter; 1876 A Ferdinand physician, J Dannie instructor, J Onesime carpenter; 1877/8 A F physician, G O builder, Joseph D tailor;
1878/9 Dan tailor, Eugene Woodcutter, Onesime grinder; 1879/80 A F physician, Eugene F bookkeeper, Joseph D tailor, Joseph O carpenter; 1880/81 A F physician, Joseph O carpenter. The 1880 census lists John 53 Canada [this must be Onesime - Joseph Onesime, John Onesime?] carpenter; wife Angela 52 Canada; son Firdina 23 Canada doctor; son Edward F 18 Canada clerk; son Philip 12 Canada; daughter Delia 10 NY; son David 7 NY. So Eugene was living in Syracuse 1868 to 1879. Joseph D was Joseph Daniel, Joseph O could be Joseph Onesime, though there was Onesime and Joseph O mixed in a few times.

The 1880 Census indicates that he was born in 1861 in New York and is a 19 year old boarder with the Wesley family in Otsego, Allegan co., MI.

Continuing with the Syracuse eds: 1882/3 Antoine F physician 96 Green, Edward moulder, Joseph D tailor, Joseph O carpenter; 1883/4 Antoine F physician, Edward L moulder, Joseph D tailor, Joseph O carpenter, Philip F tailor; 1884/5 Antoine F, Edward L, Joseph D merchant tailor, Joseph O carpenter, Napoleon carp 68 Green with Severe carp, Onesime carp 96 Green; 1885/6 A Ferdinand physician, Edward L, Joseph D tailor, Onesime builder 96 Green, Napoleon, Severe, Charles 68 Green; 1886/7 Antoine F, Edward L, Joseph D, Joseph O, Onesime 96 Green, Napoleon segarmaker, Severe carpenter; 1887/8 Ferdinand A physician, Joseph D, Joseph O 98 Green, Severe 68 Green; 1888/9 Antoine F physician, Edward L, Joseph D, Phillip F; 1892/3 Onesime J 354 Green with David E; 1893/4 Onesime J 354 Green, Antoine F, Joseph O, David E; 1894/5 Antonio F 354 Green David E salesman, Joseph A real estate, Joseph D tailor 204 Patterson; 1895/6 Antoine F 354 Green, David E lab, Joseph O real estate, Joseph D tailor 204 Patterson; 1896/7 Antoine F 354 Green, David E, Joseph O, Joseph D tailor 200 Orange; 1897/8 Antoine F 354 Green, David E, Joseph O, Joseph D tailor 110 N State; 1898/9 Antoine F, 354 Green, David E collector, Joseph O, Joseph D merchant tailor 12 Fry block; 1899/1900 same plus J O real estate.

The 1900 NY census has Antonio F Vadeboncoeur, May 1857 Canada (French), parents born French Canada, at 354 Green with brother David E Dec 1872 NY bill Collector, sister-in-law Maude J Nov 1878 NY, nephew Franklin D Mar 1899 NY. Living alone at 100 N State is the ballplayer's brother Joseph Denis, single, painter, born Jan 1855 French Canada. Both these listings said the family immigrated in 1870 but we know it was 1869 or 1868. Antoine and David continue to be listed in the Syracuse directory - at 307 James and 119 Alice respectively - through 1907.

I'll let you know what we find about the 1891 death.

Thanks again,

Peter.

THE LIFE HISTORY OF

MR. A. D. VERBONCOEUR

BY

Mrs. W. J. LeFebvre

(Sarah Blanche Verboncoeur)

My father, Mr. Adolph David Verboncoeur, was born August 7, 1844 at Three Rivers near St. Charles, Quebec Province. His father's name was Mr. Xavier Verboncoeur Deschabrillier, who was born in France of a Belgium-French father and a Spanish mother.

Xavier and his two sons were cabinet makers by trade. The family at one time lived in Brittany, France; how long and when is not known. The two sons were asked to serve as guards under Napoleon but refused, so the family left the shores of France just before the French Revolution and crossed the English Channel to England. The two young men married girls of English and Scotch parents while in England and later sailed for America by way of north-east to Canada in search of land that Canada was giving away for farming. It was during this period that Adolph D. Verboncoeur was born in Three Rivers near St. Charles, Quebec Province. It is not known how long they stayed in Canada, but after looking over the farmland offered, they apparently decided against farming there and returned to the United States. One brother settled in Chicago about 1852 with his family. Adella Luppen, the wife of Xavier Verboncoeur Deschabrillier, Jr., died in 1851 when Adolph David Verboncoeur, my father born of this marriage, was seven years old. Xavier Jr., Adolphis and the other children born of the marriage, came to St. Paul Village, Minnesota Territory in 1852. Adelphiwas the youngest of a family of twelve children and was eight years old when he arrived with his father, brothers, and sisters in St. Paul Village. The name Deschabrillier Verboncoeur was too long to sign on business papers, so it was dropped because of business reasons. The Belgium name Verboncoeur was kept as the last name.
From the time Adelphis was fourteen, he worked on farms around what is now known as Minneapolis, Anoka and Osseo. He worked from sun up to sun down for his board, room and washing, plus twenty-five cents a month, which he gave to his father who had remarried and who used the money to help support his family. Adelphis at one time worked for a man who later became his father-in-law and my grandfather on my mother's side, namely Isaac LaBissoniere. Adelphis and John Irland worked for Isaac at the same time. John Irland later went to France, studied to be a priest, and became Bishop John Irland. Adelphis volunteered for the Army in 1862 during the Civil War at the age of eighteen. Since he did not know how to use a gun, he was made barn boss of the Michigan Copper Mines in Northern Michigan on the South shores of Lake Superior near Ispenning, Marquette, and Michigan, which are now cities. After two years in the Michigan copper mines, Adelphis came back to Minnesota Territory and St. Paul Village. He married Julia LaBissoniere September 23, 1864, the daughter of the man he had once worked for, Julia was fifteen years old and Adelphis was twenty.

Julia was born on her father's farm at Lake Como, St. Paul, Minnesota Territory, on January 26, 1849. She was baptized by Father Augustine Ravoux in the little log chapel that St. Paul was named after. Her father was one of eight young men who helped build that little log cabin in 1841. He was eighteen at the time and was later married in that same chapel by Father Ravoux. Lake Como, site of the farm home and Julia's childhood, was known as Mud Lake because of it's mud bottom.

Adelphis and Julia were married at the Falls of St. Anthony and left for Michigan with nine other newly married young couples. The trip was made on foot with oxen and cart. They walked from the falls to the old East Superior and St. Louis Bay and camped out at night. The trip was enjoyed by all in the unsettled, wild regions that early fall in 1864. They arrived at the old canal about 2 PM one day and all boarded the boat late in the afternoon of a beautiful day in October. The next day they found themselves in the middle of Lake Superior and were surprised that they could not see the shore on either side. The trip ended in a storm just outside Marquet, Michigan, about two miles off shore. All the stock were put on the board and all got to shore except one long horned cow that swam toward the middle of the lake and was lost. The small boats for the passengers were manned by the ship's crew and would wait until the big waves got up level with the ship's rail. Then the people were loaded into the small boats and taken ashore. My father and mother (Adelphis and Julia) said that when they got into that small boat, they thought they would never see daylight on land again.

Adelphis lived in different small towns in Michigan, which are now mostly large cities. Adelphis and Julia's two oldest daughters were born in Michigan; Julia in 1867 and Annie in 1869. The family later returned to St. Paul and bought a home on Carrol Avenue.

Adelphis went to work for Temple and Beauprie, a wholesale house, acting as part-time buyer of butter, cheese, and eggs which he got from nearby farms. From there he went to work for J. B. Hosey and Jager, a fruit wholesale house. His duties were similar to those at Temple and Beauprie, but he had more buying power and took orders for fruit in season. Five more children were born to Adelphis and Julia in St. Paul; three boys and two girls. One girl died in St. Paul in 1877 and one boy died later in Argyle.

The family moved to Argyle Minnesota in the summer of 1870. Argyle was then called Louisa and later named Middle River. It was named Argyle by Scotch settlers. Argyle was then the end of the St. Paul Pacific Railroad, later called the St. Paul Minneapolis Manitoba Railroad, which is now the Great Northern. The railroad in those days consisted of one coach and a boxcar or two and there was no regular time as to when trains arrived or left any given point.

Adelphis and his family arrived at Argyle and got off the train at the point near where the depot now stands. No depot or platform existed in those days, just an earth bank, ditch, and mud. All of the household goods were dumped off and rolled down the embankment and the family had to jump, slide, and roll down the same embankment when they got off the train. My father managed to help my mother and the two younger children down, and during all of this it seemed to them that every mosquito in the land was present to welcome them with bites. There was not a house to be seen-nothing but a lot of tall grass and no trees. Adelphis put a tent up for the family to sleep in and during the day they lived out of doors. When the family got up in the morning, they found all sizes of snakes and field mice under their mattresses. Outside were black crows. They did not like snakes and my mother did not like the wind and tall grass being blown by the wind. It reminded her of the waves on the lake trip. Neither did she like the black bread or burnt barley, which they had to use for coffee. When the family washing was done and hung outside, they had to watch for the wild pigs, for the pigs would try to eat the clothes off the clothesline. There were no roads, but in time a platform... was built by the tracks. My father built a log shack for his store on the other side of the rough platform, which was on the west side of the track. Toward the late summer he built his home, a plain frame house one mile east of Argyle on the northwest quarter, section 14, in Middle River Township. The family moved in and settled down to more normal living conditions.

Mr. Joseph Rollette, called Joe for short, came to Argyle a few days before Adelphis had built his log house. Joe was a driver on the Red River Ox Cart for Norman Kitson, the fur man for St. Paul. Joe was also credited in helping save St. Paul as the Capitol of the state. There were three French families who came to Argyle shortly after Adelphis arrived, who built their homes at the north end of Argyle. It is not known what their names were or where they were from.

The next building to be constructed by Adelphis was what we called the granery. It was across form what is now Argyle's main street and road by the depot near the back of where the big store was later erected. It was used for storing machinery and grain. The log shack was then moved to the back of the granery for a storeroom. The big store was built in 1884, the year Sarah Verboncoeur (nicknamed Blanche) was born. A sign was put up over the front main doorway with "Adelphis Verboncoeur-1884" printed on it, and Adelphis was in business.

I, Sarah Verboncoeur, and Adolph A. Verboncoeur, were born on our father's farm. My sister, Lillian, was born at the back of the big store in the living quarters arranged there. This was in May of 1885, the year of the big hailstorm.
People were knocked out by hailstones and cattle were killed in the fields. Windows were broken and crops damaged.
The people said they heard the storm coming for three days.

From the living quarters in the big store, the family moved to Mr. John Strauster's home, east of the railroad tracks and bridge. They stayed there during the fall of 1888 while the house in town was being built. The house was built at the north end of town, west of the tracks and main road. It had nine rooms and a large barn and woodshed. There was a large pond north of the house.

Adelphis sold the house to Mr. John Gouler in April 1892. (It burned down in 1954). The family then moved to West Superior Wisconsin. This was April 29, 1892, when my brother Adolph, was twelve, Lillian was seven, and I was eight years old. Adolph managed an employment office in Superior until November 1892. He then moved his family back to St. Paul and worked for J.B. Hoxey and Jager as a traveling salesman until 1910, when he went into business for himself, selling fruits and vegetables at a stand.

The family grew up and left home one by one and by October 1912, Julia and Adelphis were once again alone.
They moved to Duluth where their son, Henry and family lived, and Mrs. Verboncoeur went into business of selling wood. I married Mr. Wilbert J. LeFebvre September 27, 1911 and left home. (Henry and I are the only two remaining members of eleven children of Adelphis and Julia). September 23, 1914, Mr. and Mrs. Adelphis D. Verboncoeur celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary in Duluth. In the fall of 1915, Adelphis and Julia went to Argyle for the holidays and spent the winter. They lived at the home of their oldest daughter, Mr. Fred Labine. In the late part of January, Adelphis became ill and died March 1916 at Argyle at the farm home of Mr. And Mrs. Fred LaBine. Funeral services were held at Argyle and Osseo, Minnesota, where he and his wife are buried. Julia died November 3, 1931 at the age of 82. She was survived by the following:

- Julia (Mrs. Fred LaBine)-Argyle, Minnesota
- Annie (Mrs. J.O. Forest)-Winnipeg, Canada
- Mary (Mrs. Oliver LeTourneau)--Tofield, Canada

Julia (1884), Annie (1886), Mary (1886), and John (1896), all married in Argyle, Minnesota, at the respective dates. John married Lydia Morin of Argyle, Joseph Morin's daughter. (*= Respective marriage dates)
While Adelphis was living in Argyle, he donated three lots for the first Catholic Church of Argyle and it's parish house, and gave forty acres west of town for a cemetery. When the town moved the cemetery Southeast the tracks, the forty acres were used for the new Catholic Church, school, and parish house as it stands today. The old Catholic Church burned down immediately after Mrs. Joseph Morin's funeral service while she was being buried at the new cemetery. The old parish house was later sold and the three lots were given back to Adelphis.

I know most of the people of Argyle by name from hearing my people mention their names. I know a few personally, although I feel as if I know all of them well. I recall that there were three families of Morins. There were three Morin brothers-Joseph, Andrew, and Elzear. Joseph had six boys and six girls. All three families came from Canada.

Listed below are more people and names I remember. Most of them I remember and recognize when we meet at church, business place or at my home.

Julia:

LIFE HISTORY OF

MRS. ADELPHIS DAVID VERBONCOEUR

By

Mrs. W. J. BeFebvre
(Sarah Blanche Verboncoeur)

My mother, Mrs. Adelphis David Verboncoeur's maiden name was Julia LaBissioniere. She was 5'9" and weighed 165 pounds, more or less on the heavy side. She was born January 26, 1849, on her father's farm at Lake Como, St. Paul, Minnesota. The farm was located at the west end half of the lake beginning where Chatsworth Street now runs into the Lake, back to West Snelling Avenue and north to Larpenteur Avenue. The farm home stood on a small hill west of where the water fountain stands on the road going to the grand bandstand. This small hill was then a part of Lake Como Shore. It was quite a large lake and heavily wooded with large oak trees and many turtles. The year 1849 was the year Minnesota became the Minnesota Territory also. Lake Como was then known as Mud Lake.

Julia, my mother, had almost black hair, large brown eyes, and a clear fair complexion, even when she got old. She was very religious, active in church work, and strict with her children. She knew all of the fairy tales in French, having learned them from her father, and also knew many Latin words. She could whistle well and imitate birdcalls and songs. As a young woman, she was inclined to be sickly, but from age 50 to 86, she was in good health and was able to do all of her own housework. After my father died, she worked for others by taking care of sick women. She worked off and on up to 83 years of age.

My mother had one-month schooling in St. Paul. Most of her schoolmates were sixteen to twenty years old and could not speak English. She taught herself to read and speak English after she was married. She had a green thumb with house plants, as well as the outside vegetable garden. Julia was fond of animals and was able to train them for tricks. She trained the dogs and cats to wipe their feet before they came in the house. At the age of 86 she looked more like she was 50. In her 80's, she did all of her own shopping, went to church, and went to visit all of her old friends by herself.

The day she died she went to 7 AM Mass and came home with an old friend, who she had taken out for breakfast and went shopping with. After she left her she met another old friend and they had dinner together downtown Minneapolis. Then my mother went to North Minneapolis by streetcar to see a friend from Argyle, Minnesota. She was living with my sister, Lillian, the baby of the family, number 11. My mother got home in time to make supper, and after supper, she and Lillian sat down to read. At 11 PM, Lillian got ready for bed and at 12 midnight, my mother told Lillian to call the Doctor, the Priest, and my cousin, Olive, for she was dying. My mother walked up and down the living room for about twenty minutes and then lay down on the cot and died, just as the Doctor, Priest, and my cousin Olive came in.

In the winter of 1888, Mr. Olson and Mr. Holm suffered the loss of their store, which burned down in one of Argyle's worst blizzards. The snow was up to the roof tops of many homes. Green and blue bottles of chemicals were used to try to put out the fire. Snow was shoveled between the burning store and the building next to it in an effort to keep the fire from spreading. The fire happened just before Christmas and all the Christmas goods which had been ordered and stocked in the store were lost. Mr. Olson an Mr. Holm rented one of my father's grocery stores until a new store could be built. Our family saw the flames and my father, brother John, and the hired man went to the fire to help.

My mother told me of another bad snow storm June 16, 1887. Everybody with animals to take care of was kept busy getting them all rounded up and into shelter. Ernest Joseph LeFebvre, my husbands younger brother, was born June 16, 1887, the day of the snow storm.
My sister Lillian and I started school in Argyle. Lotte Olson welcomed us on our first day at school. Miss Blank was our teacher and a man was the principal. In the winter during bad weather, Mr. Alfred Belish would stop by our house with his sleigh and my brother, sister and I would join his children for a ride to school.

I also remember our big dog Rover, a St. Bernard, and Rover's mother, beauty, who belonged to Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Forest. Adolph, my brother, would hitch them both to a toboggan in the winter and give Lillian, my sister, and I a ride on nice days. Adolph would stand on the back end of the toboggan and the dogs would make good time on the country roads. We had a nice Morgan horse for the cutter and on a lovely winter day the ride was enjoyable.

These two wonderful St. Bernard dogs saved my brother, Adolph from drowning in the Middle River, old Mill Pond, one cold winter day in 1888. Adolphe, age eight, went skating on the river east of the railroad tracks and took the two dogs along. The old mill was a block or so from the tracks. Adolphe went too close to the mill pond and fell under the thin ice. The two dogs ran up to the road and barked at a man who was going toward the tracks to get some help. The man paid no attention to them, so the dogs kept running back and forth from the river bank to the road. They barked at another man, but he went right on also. The third man who came along followed the dogs to the river, thinking something was wrong. The man followed them and found they wanted help to drag a long branch that was laying on the ground, to a hole in the ice. The man picked it up and took it to the pond, but still didn't know what all the confusion was about. The two men who passed up the barking dogs previously came back to see what all the confusion was, too. They got the branch in the ice hole under the ice. As they held onto the branch and pulled it up, out came Adolph covered with ice. They took him home, put dry clothes on him and called a doctor. As a result of this incident he got Red Fever. When he was pretty well again, he found he had a running ear, which often kept him out of school because of the bad odor it had.

When Adolph was thirty years old, he fell off of a flat railroad car when he was on his way home from work in Seattle, Washington. He broke his spine and wasn't able to walk without crutches, but still could earn his own living.

When Adolph was 35 years old, a doctor at the University of Minnesota found that Adolph had a masquer, which he had taken care of. He died in 1940 at 60 years of age.

In the summer months in Argyle, there were a lot of black crows. Mr. James J. Griffen, the depot agent and dispatcher, shot a lot of them. In the winter, they would trap and kill snow birds for pot pies. I would not eat any of these pies and did not like them.

During the World War I eight of our boys were in the Armed Services, but all came home in good health. They were:

Louis died as the result of an accident at the sawmill where he worked.
The Anoka Union newspaper reported:

"Monday forenoon about ten o'clock a terrible accident occurred in the lath room of Reed & Sherwood's lumber mill. It seems that Louis Vevea and another young man were sawing shingle binders at the bolting saw. One board, which was to be sawed, became broken, and when it was being taken away the broken piece fell upon the saw. On the instant there was imparted to it the speed of lightning; it struck Vevea on the right side just below the ribs. He staggered, started to run, and would have fallen, but was caught by one of the work men. He was conveyed to the office, and, as soon as possible, Dr. Giddings was called. The physician pronounced the bones unbroken, but the internal injuries serious. A team was procured, and he was carried to his home. During all this time he retained his consciousness. About one o'clock he died. The piece of board which struck him was about two and one-half feet long, five inches wide, and one inch in thickness. He was about twenty seven years of age, and leaves a wife and three children."

Anecdotal Info on Dallas Hart from Herbert B. Hart, Jr.

According to my father, Herbert B. Hart, Jr., Dallas and his family came from Three Rivers Canada (near Montreal?), and then to White Hall, New York (where the family surname name may have changed from Boncoeur to GoodHeart to Hart,) and then to Graphite, New York and later to Hague, New York. HBH Jr. thinks his father, HBH Sr., one of Dallas' sons, was born in Graphite, New York (need to confirm against Tree info). HBH Jr. says that Dallas was a farmer who owned and worked his farm (pigs, horses, cattle and hay for horses), and also worked in the mines in Graphite for a period of time. He was told by his father (HBH Sr.) that Dallas would drive a team of horses from his farm in White Hall to Hewitt's Landing (sp?), and then row a boat across Lake George to Graphite to work in the mines, and then back again at the end of his work day. HBH Jr. doubts that story, looking at the logistics of the trip, and thinks rather that Dallas probably went to Graphite for the week and stayed with someone and then came home on the weekends. He also said that he was told Dallas' first home (farm) in Graphite burned down, and then the family moved to Hague. HBH Jr. said he knew of Dallas being an accomplished fiddler.

DRIVER IS NOT TO BLAME

Before the eyes of his mother and with many looking on unable to lend a hand, Lawrence Peterson, 8 year old son of Mr. & Mrs. Albert Peterson, residing over a soft drink parlor at 608 Ship St, was almost instantly killed Saturday evening when struck by an automobile truck owned by the Harrold Transfer Line and driven by Rudolph Maier. The boy lived but a few minutes never regaining consciousness. Persons viewing the accident exonerated the driver of all blame. The coroner's inquest will be held at Battinger and Kingsley's chapel.

Story goes that he owned a lumber mill in Norway, Michigan and lost it due to the high life style of his 2 sons by 1st. marriage.

  This information obtained from Dolly LaMotte and Helen Pastorius who heard it from Dolly Maynard while attending Earl Maynard’s funeral, at Beatrice Quayle’s 89th. birthday party in Lorraine Schoeller’s home as follows:

  1st. Joseph Menard was in love with a woman who would not marry him, so he said he would marry her daughter, which he did. (comment, this woman must have had a daughter from a previous marriage). He had eleven children with this woman, she must have died. Then he married Alvina Hebert and had ten children, one of which was Rose Maynard (Pastorius).

  2nd. version of above story, Joseph was married first to a woman and had eleven children, this woman may have died. He wanted to marry Alvina’s mother but she would not marry him, so he married Alvina the daughter. So all of Joseph’s children with Alvina had eleven brothers and sisters.

  Dolly LaMotte said when they lived in Winfield, Kansas Joseph came to live with them for awhile, he was very old and grumpy.

Compiled by: Roger & Nancy Verboncoeur (R.Verboncoeur@Comcast.net)
Rose Maynard (Pastorius) was part Oneida (Iroquois) Indian, do not know for sure from which parent, but the story goes that Joseph’s father who we think was also named Joseph was a trapper in Canada and married a Oneida Indian girl, (no proof of this). Rose received a letter some years ago that stated land was available for free in Canada for people with Oneida Indian blood. She was unable to go to claim the land because they had no money. Dolly LaMotte was going to write to Dolly Maynard and ask her to send a copy of the letter with infromation about the above (Do not know if the letter was ever sent and Dolly LaMotte has since past away.

Joseph is buried at the St. Agnes Cemetery in Ashland, Wisc., there is no headstone. He is buried next to John B. Cyr and Angelie. This information obtained from the Sexton at the cemetery by Ron and Jane Quayle, on a trip to Ashland, Wisc. Sept. 8, 1997. Ron Quayle has in his possession a photo of the page in the Sexton’s book with the above info. Also on the page the name is John Maynard, I added (Joseph).

Death certificate obtained from the County Court House in Ashland, Wisc. in Possession of Ron Quayle. The death certificate was filled out by William J. Maynard one of the son’s of Joseph. In the space for the deceased’s father and mother, it seems like William entered his own father and mother, not good for further searching.297
